WOMENS' GUILDS WORK

Rev. Sidney Hooker Speaks Before St. Andrew's Brotherhood.

The annual meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held last evening in the Anglican Cathedral schoolroom, in conjunction with the guilds of St. Andrew and the Second Congregation. The joint meeting was for the purpose of listening to an address on guild work by Rev. Sidney Hooker, of Dillon, Montana, who is making a short visit in Honolulu. He was introduced by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, who spoke of the origin and work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. He praised the young men for making themselves known in church work, and then gave an outline of its history. He said the members of the Brotherhood did much for the church by visiting hotels, lodging houses, ships and other places, where they urged men to attend church services and otherwise bring them within the influence of the church. One of the pleasant features of the organization had been an address by one of the five founders of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the United States, the result of which was to renew activity in the local Brotherhood.

Rev. Mr. Hooker said he was very glad to bring a message from the Episcopal Church in the United States to the church in Hawaii, and especially from his own church in Montana. Speaking of guilds and why they should exist, he said it was because when the spirit of Christ comes into the hearts of people they want to show their faith and love in a practical way. Religion was not simply a thing of sentiment or words, but a thing for action. The rector of a parish needs others to assist him in his work and Christians feel that they can do something for him. They want to show that Christianity means something to them practically. In order to accomplish anything there must be organization, as in business or politics, and therefore guilds have been organized. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew was a splendid organization and helped a great deal to interest men in the church. He praised the Daughters of the King, the parish guilds, and laid especial stress on the value of the Woman's Auxiliary, which he said would be established here under the regime of the new American bishop. The guilds were for making people acquainted with each other, and to raise funds for church work by the giving of socials and bazaars. He hoped to learn of the Woman's Auxiliary here, creating an interest in the Sunday Schools to raise a mission fund during Lent to be presented at the next convention of the House of Bishops, as Alaska, Liberia, China, Japan, and other missionary districts, had done recently. His own State had given the largest amount per capita, and the town of Dillon the largest amount per capita in the State.

At the conclusion of his address the Brotherhood of St. Andrew passed a vote of thanks to Mr. Hooker. Rev. Mr. Mackintosh made some brief remarks about church work in general, and made a plea for more active interest in ecclesiastical affairs.

PORTO RICANS GO TO JAIL

Judge Wilcox Gives Vagrants Three Months—Prowlers Around Last Night.

In the police court yesterday Judge Wilcox sentenced six Porto Ricans charged with vagrancy, to three months at hard labor. They were of the crowd arrested by High Sheriff Brown on Tuesday. Some of the others who had families were discharged, and the cases of the remainder were continued until today. Lum Wo Sing, charged with assault and battery with a deadly weapon, was committed for trial. George Rosa was arraigned on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is alleged to have caused the death of his brother, Joe Rosa. Attorneys Kaulukou and Robertson appeared for defendant. The case was continued until Saturday. Joaquin Souza, charged with headless riding, was fined $5 and costs. Yesterday's arrests included: Juan Traveria, Alfrieda Truocha, vagrancy; Ah Sang, larceny second degree; Ah Hong, investigation; Kalani Fernandez, desertion; Ito, assault and battery on Kuma (w); W. Johnson, drunkenness. Juan Traveria and Alfrieda Truocha, two Porto Ricans, were arrested yesterday morning. They were hanging about the police station and said that they were waiting to hear the results of the other Porto Rican cases. They were charged with vagrancy. While Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth was driving in a hack at Iwilei last night, he caught Ito, a Japanese, in the act of beating Kuma, his wife. Just as Chillingworth was passing Ito hit the woman, who was sitting on a chair, a terrible blow in the face, and was promptly arrested. Last night several complaints were received at the police station about night prowlers in the Thomas Square district. Officers were several times dispatched in answer to telephone messages, but no arrests were made.

A Long Voyage.
The German ship Agnes arrived about 6:30 last night, 153 days from Hamburg. On the voyage, the mate died of dysentery and was buried at sea. The master of the vessel is Captain Hemke. For three days the Agnes has been beating about off port, with heavy seas and an adverse wind to contend with. Her captain says that for the last three nights he has not obtained a wink of sleep.

MAIL KINDNESS.
"H'm!" exclaimed Mr. Goldie, after reading his morning post. "That boy's college education is making him too smart."
"What's the matter?" asked Mrs. Goldie.
"I wrote to him the other day that I thought it would be kinder for me not to remit the check he asked for. Now he writes: 'Dear Father—I shall never forget your unrelenting kindness.'"
"Tut-tut."

WE WOULD EAT THE FRUIT OF THE TARO ROOT.

'Twould take a week to reckon up
The many kind of cates
On which you breakfast, dine and sup
In the United States;
There's ham and eggs, and tea and toast,
And oysters on the fruit,
There's boiled and baked, and grilled and roast
But I am out for pol.

The bean is worshipped in the skirts
Of Massachusetts Bay.
The catfish with the waffle flirts
In Philadelphia;
Mid celery of the Chesapeake
The canvasback lives high;
For terrapin some loudly speak,
But I am out for pol!

Where breaks the sunlit southern sea
On Oahu's coral caves,
And its feather top the coconut tree
In the myrrhill breezes waves;
The taro's taste the goodly paste
From the taro's root I would troil;
Night-eyed Hawaii, make haste, O,
haste,
For your Uncle Sam wants pol!

WHAT WE OUGHT NOT TO KNOW.

No one ought to know they have a heart. No one ought to know they have a liver. No one ought to know that they have any internal machinery. They won't know it if the machinery is working properly. The first time that the liver or heart, stomach or kidneys force themselves on the attention, it is a sign that there is something wrong with the machinery. What is wrong? Perhaps the liver is sluggish. Perhaps the blood is impure. It may be the stomach needs toning up or the bowels need regulating. Whatever the trouble is, there is a sure remedy in Sagwa. Sagwa will search the trouble out and straighten it out. That's what Sagwa is made for. The Indian found that however many varieties of diseases there were, there were few causes of disease, and that a few simple remedies, properly compounded, were provided by Nature, to eradicate these very causes. One disease may have twenty symptoms. It is useless to treat the symptoms. The Indian remedy goes to the root, and eradicates the cause. That is the reason for its success, where other remedies fail. It is purely vegetable, and while powerful in its result it is yet gentle in its action. It is Nature's remedy, and it works quietly and easily as Nature works. Have you tried Sagwa? Begin on it at once. You will begin to be cured with the first dose, and gradually recover that strength and energy that you have lost in the past years. No other remedy operates so surely or so speedily as Sagwa.

KEEPING TAB ON HIM.

Mr. Clubman—"I see by the papers that a poor young man, who lost both his legs while saving the life of a beautiful heiress at a railway crossing, is to marry the girl. She dismissed all suitors and offered herself to him."
Mrs. Clubman (meaningly)—"Very sensible girl. She'll know where her husband is nights, anyway."—New York Weekly.
